Bridging Policy, Practice & Research Nationwide

Policy

To establish the goals and objectives by which the Court Ordered Programs pursues its day to day operation. Court Ordered Programs implements the following policy of goals and objectives:

To provide a safe, confidential, therapeutic and professional environment where clients can receive services which meets their needs. To consistently implement all appropriate Federal and State standards that apply. To provide group from appropriately licensed/certified staff. To utilize a clinical team of State licensed, certified professionals to evaluate and establish an individualized treatment plan for each client. To provide the highest quality treatment possible. To consistently apply performance improvement and outcome measures to ensure quality treatment is monitored and maintained. To assist clients in attaining healthy and productive lives free of the negative influences and consequences. To have clients improve their functioning level in their communities and with their families, and, to have clients will develop appropriate tools, support systems and continue interaction with these systems post discharge.

Practice

Court Ordered Programs will provide courses in Domestic Violence, Batterers Intervention, Anger Management, Parenting, Divorce, Deferred Entry of Judgment, Theft Prevention / Shoplifting, and Criminal Behavior Modification. The efficacy of the treatment program will be established by measuring the progress of each client. The director will adhere to policy and procedure. The Program objective questionnaire will measure the outcome of Short-term objectives and Long Term Goals for clients.

Our goals are to have at least 75% of clients achieve at least 80% of their objectives during the first phase of treatment. We will perform follow-up calls or email at intervals of three months, six months, and one year to check the status of their progress. We will try to have at least 60% of client response when contacted. At six months post treatment 60% of patients will score their functioning level in their community at least 20% higher on a 1-20 scale than they did at program admission, patient's discharge GAF score will show improvement at discharge as compared to admit GAF.

Research

The efficacy of the treatment program will be established by measuring as much about of each client as possible especially the overall progress and it will be measured by implementing the Program Evaluation Plan. It will establish the effectiveness of the program for those who are currently enrolled in our courses. Over our 8 year history, our evaluation has concluded this program to be almost 2 times more effective than traditional programs.

The clinical staff will perform a weekly staffing meeting that will evaluate the progress of each client. The staff will evaluate each participant's progress and staff's adherence to policy and procedure. A Treatment Objective Checklist will be completed for each participant during the initial interview. The Director will be checking for a progress plan to be present for each presenting problem (objective and measurable). The director will ensure that a progress note is present and that it addresses treatment goals. The effectiveness of the plan is documented. The progress plan will be updated every 90 days. The Director will check the current status of participant and their response coincides with the plan and is documented. An update is done after the first phase of treatment. The number of sessions/groups attended is documented. The nature of the patient's participation in group is documented daily. The admission & discharge criteria are documented. The effectiveness of the treatment program will be measured by assessing the full amount of data collected throughout the patients participation in the program. It will establish the effectiveness of the program for those who are currently enrolled in our courses and provide a better treatment plan and objective for the future.

Via Live Video Group Classrooms

Court Ordered Classes was developed in 2007 to assist those who were physically unable to make it to their local classrooms to be able to get the services and intervention that they needed. These persons may have been handicapped, mentally ill, incarcerated, or they may have been hundreds of miles from any intervention program provider, and, in some cases, public figures, professional athletes or other celebrities that may have otherwise disrupted the classroom by merely their presence. Their technologically advanced “live group meeting” software allows course instructors to have classroom style group sessions with participants from all over the nation (students from Los Angeles, New York, Alaska, Hawaii and so on) to teach and collect in-debt information, while bringing a multitude of diverse cultures, backgrounds, beliefs, lifestyles and other differences, together for one common cause in one class. This “live group meeting” adheres to and surpasses all State standards and laws regarding Domestic Violence and Batterers Intervention Programs and has since been put to use by many of the Childrens, Family, Drug and Criminal Courts throughout the whole Nation.

It is because of such innovations that Court Ordered Programs Inc. and their distance-learning programs, DBA Court Ordered Classes, have received dozens of endorsements from Judges and Family/Children’s Court Referees and hundreds of endorsements from social workers, probation and parole officers, district attorneys, case mangers, lawyers and public defenders.

exceptional and technologically advanced programs that they have implemented in their "distance-learning" school, Court Ordered Classes. This is not the make believe on-line program that others offer on CD's and word documents.

In collaboration with Judges, probation and parole officers, family service counselors, and educational course providers for masters and doctoral studies, Court Ordered Classes has been able to put together an intervention program unparalleled to any other program in the nation. Providing our program participants with intake, assessments, evaluations, relevant up-to-date learning materials for this decade and counseling sessions done via live video either one-on-one or in a group classroom environment means that our counselors can individually work with the client, take notes, and provide progress status in one easily accessible chart for immediate review by other counselors, staff members, probation and parole officers, judges, attorneys, or any other court official with proper consent.

Welcome Judges, Probation/Parole Officers and Attorneys

Many departments are trying to adjust to the changing times at hand and in many cases there are even less options today than ever before. We understand and that is why we are here.

Like so many other court approved programs across the United States there has always been a percentage of clients that never fulfill the conditions of their court order. Many move away and have other responsibilities they place above the conditions of their probation - many just never show up. For us, even as one of the most successful agencies in the country and located in a population area of over 10 Million People, number of non-compliance students still averaged approximately 34% each year in our county alone.

In many counties this 34% average (as high as 65%+ in some counties) is a revolving door of defendants who are constantly in and out of the system, while others are truck drivers, pilots, oil-rig workers, or some other line of work that takes them away from home making it difficult to attend a set schedule of classes. Many others live in a remote area where services are not available, are handicapped, or speak a language your current providers don't offer services for.

This was unacceptable to us and was why we developed the program we are introducing you to. This is our driving force and we have dedicated ourselves to change not only the way we work with our own program participants, but to also help re-vitalize and change the way the Court, Probation/Parole, and how every other agency works with their own version of the 34 percent across the nation as well.

Today we have the technology to provide services like never before. What is even more amazing is that we also live at a time in history when wonderful discoveries have been made about the Mind and how we create our sense of Reality. The results we are achieving prove this. This allows a level of service; options and answers that you may have never known existed – until now.

Our primary function is to assist your department in addressing the 34%, and in doing so provide you with additional options relating to classes, supervision, and language as we provide many language options. This allows the client to move, travel, have a job, or address any other problem which may have previously caused client to be unsuccessful in fulfilling their court requirement.

The clients you refer to us now have access to the same quality of classes and continuity in the level of counseling and supervision that they require regardless of how they take the class. Today there is no difference between an In-house class, or our Advanced Learning System Live Web Classes.

There is a New Psychology and by immersing it in the technological advances of today the bar has been set so high the results being achieved are now so very groundbreaking.

We look forward to speaking with you personally. Today like never before we can provide solutions that resolves many of the issues your department has had trouble with in the past, and this is why we are here.

We look forward to showing you how much of an asset we can be.

Court Ordered Classes provides a State approved Batterer's Intervention Program and follows the approved Duluth Model standards.

Our live video group classroom means that no program participant can fake through their court order. All records are kept in the clients charts from intake, to assessments and counseling and even video group participations' for future review and evaluation of clients goal objectives.

All of our other programs from BIP to DEJ and Anger Management or Criminal Behavior Modification follow the same standards and video group participation requirements. We encourage you to take a closer look and explore our many programs and initiatives as a resource to you in your intervention and prevention efforts.

These courses will help to learn to be responsible for abusive behavior, fundamentals of controlling negative emotions and feelings, learning strategies and recognizing repetitive, antisocial behavioral patterns. Participants are expected to accept responsibility for abusive behavior, participate in each session, be responsible for safety planning for the prevention of violence and be non-violent in relationships by utilizing the tools learned in our programs in order to maintain healthy relationships.

We do this with individuals through counseling and education, through anger management classes, through drug and alcohol abuse classes, but also by working closely with partner organizations throughout each and every community throughout the State and accross the United States of America.

Information of the participants provided by their consent to remain confidential.

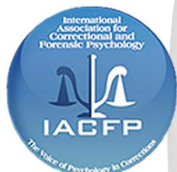

We encourage you to take a closer look and explore our many programs and initiatives as a resource to you in your domestic violence intervention and prevention efforts.
